This two day workshop will present the Child Centered Continuum Model (CCCM) for use in family mediation and other non-court based post separation interventions. It is based on practice experience in both Australia and Canada. The training will teach four levels of child participation in non-court based interventions, including:

1) The strategies, skills, strengths and limitations of each level through case examples (application of CCM according to levels of parental acrimony, parental reflective capacity, and child age and stage of development)
2) Opportunities for skill development through practice sessions.
3) Considerations for ethical practice
