

ARTICLING WITH THE COURT OF QUEEN'S BENCH OF ALBERTA

The Court of Queen's Bench of Alberta invites applications for 2019-2020 articling student positions in Edmonton and Calgary

The Court of Queen's Bench's articling program gives students an exciting opportunity to work directly with the Justices of the Court, and observe all aspects of the administration of justice from a unique perspective. It offers a collegial work environment and allows students to hone their research, analytical, and writing skills. Students are exposed to many areas of law and proceedings in all three levels of court in Alberta, making this an invaluable experience for all law students, whether they intend to pursue careers as litigators, solicitors or academics.

Each year, the Court of Queen's Bench offers five articling positions in Calgary, and five in Edmonton, to students from common law faculties in Canada. Students in Edmonton begin their articling term in June. Students in Calgary have staggered start dates over the summer months.

Your application must include:

- (1) a cover letter;
- (2) a transcript (or copy) of all post-secondary marks;
- (3) a curriculum vitae;
- (4) one academic reference letter which comments on your legal research and communication skills, and the names of, and contact information for, two additional referees; and
- (5) an unmarked legal writing sample.
